

Dr. Kelly Hawboldt Biography

Dr. Hawboldt is Professor and Chemical Engineer, Engineering and Applied Science, Memorial University of Newfoundland, and specializes in the sustainable green processing and extraction of natural resources, from forestry residues to offshore oil and gas to the food industry. She will provide expert advice on optimization and validation of chitin and protein pilot scale extraction process.