

Michael Dimock

Michael Dimock is Vice President for Field Development at Certis USA, a leading biopesticide company based in Columbia, Maryland. He holds a PhD in Entomology (Cornell University) and has worked for over 30 years in research and development of biopesticides for use in plant protection and public health.